Electric Motor Mobile Crushing Equipment PE 500x750 Quarry Granite Jaw Crusher For Golding Mining

Product Description

Mobile jaw crusher is a new type of stone crushing equipment. It integrates feeding machine, stone crusher, screening equipment, effectively solving on-site infrastructure problems. As a primary machine in the construction field, it is mainly used for metallurgy, chemical industry, construction materials, and other frequently transported materials. It can be divided into wheeled and trailer type.

The mobile crushing station can directly enter the site for processing, which reduces the transportation of materials and saves the transportation cost of raw materials. It can be considered as a combination of feeding, crushing, and screening machines in stationary crusher plants.

Detailed Images

Jaw crusher is widely used in various industries, such as mining, road and railway construction, building construction, water conservation and chemical industry etc.

It could crush kinds of minerals and rocks with compression strength less than 320MPa, such as quartz, granite, basalt, limestone, river stone, sandstone, shale, iron ore, copper ore, gold ore etc.
